

We hope everyone had a fun Halloween!

I knew Adam would have the best Halloween photo, so I made him cough one up for us!
- Juliana

CLIENT SPOTLIGHT

Samuel Eisen-Meyers is multi-talented visual artist, creative producer, and director. Born and raised in Portland, OR, Sam’s creative works range from music albums, short films, and large-scale, mixed-media constructions. Read more on our website.

PRO BONO SPOTLIGHT

Noah Maurer, '22, regularly volunteers as a SBLC Pro Bono Attorney and is on the board of directors for Oregon Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts. Noah is also rocking private practice, focusing on business, M&A, and IP at Elevate Law. Noah has a back-ground of working with entrepreneurs and artists across the U.S. and Canada, and brings that real world experience to protect the interests of his clients. Read more on our website.

FALL FORUM SUCCESS!

Thank you to all who attended our recent Fall Forum. We hope it was illuminating and helpful to your practice. We want to give an even bigger thank you to presenters: Deborah Burand (NYU), Trevor Jones (Intel), Michael Litvin (Motivate Law), Sarah Dadush (Rutgers), David Snyder (American University), Lars E. Johanasson (Burks Johanasson), Laura Norris (Santa Clara University), Robert Scott, Nicoleas Mayne (Nixon Peabody), Aaron Cronan (Cronan Law), Mark Yoklic (NewSun Energy), Mike McArthur (Community Renewable Energy Association), and Shannon Souza (Obsidian Pacific NW Hydrogen Hub). And a big thank you to our caterers: La Casa de Mama, Xocotl, Top It Off, Charcuterie Me, and La Arepa.

Did you know? Just one of your billable hours may be the equivalent of the cost of our services for 4 or more of our clients? That’s right, whether it’s time or money, your donations will go quite far in supporting our programs. Head to: go.lclark.edu/sblc